Resume

About Me

I'm a Congolese graphic designer passionate about creating visually compelling designs that tell meaningful stories and connect with audiences. I take pride in combining artistry and functionality to craft unique and impactful visuals.

Graphic design is my main talent, but I also enjoy exploring other creative hobbies like photography, portrait drawing, interior decoration, and painting. These pursuits not only broaden my artistic perspective but also inspire fresh ideas in my work. Creativity fuels everything I do, and I love finding new ways to express myself.

Personal Skills

Through my work, I bring ideas to life, blending imagination with a keen eye for detail. Every project I undertake is an opportunity to craft something meaningful, with passion and originality at its core.
